

David Orinski named Partner and President of Craft Work Capital

Effective February 12th, David Orinski has been named a Partner of Craft Work Capital and has also assumed the role of President. Jeremy McGuire, Craft Work Capital's prior President, has taken the title of Partner and Founder. "Dave and I have worked together for the better part of two decades and I am very pleased to be making this announcement on behalf of Craft Work Capital", said Jeremy. Adding further "Dave's leadership has been instrumental to our success and this elevation in his title is a recognition of the role he has effectively already been performing."

Dave's diverse business leadership career spans two decades and includes both publicly traded and privately held companies. He has helped evaluate, acquire and develop large utility-scale renewable energy projects, he has led interdisciplinary teams in the diligence and execution of major M&A transactions, and has been integral in building out Craft Work's platforms.

"I couldn't be happier to lead Craft Work into the future," Dave said adding "The secret to our success is working closely with specialty contractors and helping their teams execute a growth strategy. I look forward to continuing this work with our existing platforms, and continuing to create new platforms in our areas of focus."
